ART IS MY LIFE, AND I WILL ALWAYS KEEP
LOOKING FOR ANOTHER ADVENTURE.

We are proud to have represented Phil Barlow's work at Phillips Gallery for over fourteen years. He was a realist painter with a beautiful sensitivity to light and texture, and his work consistently delighted his audience with moments that would reflect his wonderful, dry sense of humor. His compositions combine elements that create intrigue, and give viewers the sense of a mystery about to unfold. We marveled at his vitality and unwavering technique even as he moved into his mid-eighties. Phil will be dearly missed and fondly remembered.

MY LIFE SINCE THE SIXTH GRADE HAS BEEN ART!

IT HAS BEEN AN OBSESSION, A CHALLENGE,

AND AN ADVENTURE OF ALL ADVENTURES.

A FEW THINGS I HAVE LEARNED:

1. Rules are made to be broken.
2. I must continue to entertain my audience.
3. I must have fun in my mind and in my brush.
4. I will never paint the perfect picture.
5. I must experiment and take chances.
6. I must listen to my critics — but feel free to ignore them.
7. I must have the courage to destroy a bad concept that will not work.
